

FAQ Number: 1644

Date Published: October 21, 2009

Last Updated: October 21, 2009

Question: What should be done with my CVI Authorization User Number?

Answer: The Department recommends that an individual's CVI number should not be openly displayed or freely revealed. Rather, it should be protected like an individual's credit card number or driver's license or other personally identifiable information.